

Special Marketing Section

BR • SOCIETY BROWARI

Glades Plaza

BA

The Sun-Sentinel Marketing Division received its time

The Sun-Sentinel Marketing Division received its time

Children's Diagnostic Center (CDC) and sort 4,000 toys a

The toys were distributed

The Young Professionals for Covenant House annual "Cranberry Jam" is a popular local street party that is a tradition to attend on Thanksgiving Eve.

This year's 14th Annual "Cranberry Jam" was quite literally kicked-off to a start with a kick-line by the world famous Rockettes.

The legendary dancers, adorned in green holiday costumes, posed for photos at the annual street party, taking place this year at the Parrot Lounge on Sunrise Lane in Fort Lauderdale. Deco Drive, one of South Florida's premier entertainment news programs, broadcast live while local bands "Beddy Ford" and "Sunset Drive" didn't skip a beat and had the crowds rocking until 11pm. Complimentary drinks included Budweiser beer, Volta Vodka "CranJam-Punch, and Voodoo Tiki Tequila pear margaritas, and the crowd munched on a buffet of appetizers provided by the Parrot Lounge.

A "guess the cranberries" raffle gave a lucky winner 4 tickets to see the Radio City Christmas Spectacular at the Broward Center.

Each guest who attended the event was offered give-aways from Y-100, Florida Panthers, Florida Marlins, Miami Dolphins.

Young Professionals for Covenant House annual "Cranberry Jam" raised over $8,000 which is the biggest fundraising event hosted by YPFCH.

Young Professionals for Covenant House is a dedicated group of adults helping to raise money and increase awareness for Covenant House Florida by hosting socials and special events in the South Florida area. Covenant House Florida serves runaways, homeless and at-risk youths under 21 including teen parents and their babies.

For more information, call 954-568-7901 or visit www.youngpros.net

Mike Levin, left, and Jay Clairain

No

LI

...for cover